Executive Summary of Titan Company:

The title of the project is “A COMPARATIVE STUDY ON LOYALTY PROGRAMME AT TITAN COMPANY”. The study was conducted in between 1ST JULY - 1ST AUGUST during training at TITAN Retail (Ltd) in Bhubaneswar and Cuttack.

Titan Company Limited, a part of the Tata Group, is one of India’s most trusted and diversified lifestyle companies. Established in 1984 as a joint venture between the Tata Group and the Tamil Nadu Industrial Development Corporation (TIDCO), Titan began as a premium watch manufacturer and has since grown into a leading player in multiple consumer segments. Its key business divisions include watches and wearables (Titan, Fastrack, Sonata), jewellery (Tanishq, Mia, Zoya), eyewear (Titan EyePlus), and emerging categories like fragrances (Skinn) and ethnic apparel (Taneira). Titan operates over 2,000 retail stores across India and maintains a strong digital presence, offering seamless omni channel experiences. With a focus on innovation, customer trust, and design excellence, Titan continues to expand its footprint both domestically and internationally.

Titan's Royalty Card Program is a thoughtfully designed customer loyalty initiative by Titan Company, aimed at creating lasting relationships with its customers and enhancing their overall shopping experience. Primarily associated with Tanishq, Titan's flagship jewellery brand, the program allows customers to earn loyalty points on every eligible purchase made at participating stores. These points can be accumulated and later redeemed for discounts on future purchases, making each transaction more rewarding. The program also offers a range of exclusive privileges to its members, including early access to new product launches, invitations to special events and exhibitions, priority services such as faster billing and personalized assistance, and even special offers during important occasions like birthdays and anniversaries. In some cases, the Royalty Card Program includes tier-based memberships, where customers who shop more frequently or spend higher amounts are elevated to higher tiers, unlocking even greater benefits. The enrolment process is simple and can be completed in-store or online, with members receiving a physical or digital card linked to their account. By implementing this program, Titan not only incentivizes repeat business but also gains valuable insights into customer preferences and buying behaviour, allowing the company to tailor its marketing strategies and service offerings more effectively.

Overall, the Royalty Card Program reflects Titan’s commitment to customer satisfaction, brand loyalty, and premium service, making it a key pillar in the company’s customer engagement strategy.

CHAPTER-1

INTROUCTION

OBJECTIVES OF THE STUDY

SCOPE OF THE STUDY

INTRODUCTION

“The most valuable asset in business is the loyal customer”

Loyalty-whether from customers, employees, or partners- form the backbone of sustainable business success. It builds trust, drives repeat businesses, strengthens brand reputation, and creates an environment where innovation and growth can thrive. Many renowned leaders and thinkers have emphasized the importance of loyalty in shaping enduring enterprises. Below are some quotes that echo this powerful idea.

LOYALTY PROGRAMME BASIS: - Basically it is a strategic marketing tool designed to encourage repeat business by rewarding customers.

1. Customer Retention:-Encourages repeat purchases by rewarding loyal customers. More cost- effective than acquiring new customers.
2. Customer Engagement:-Builds emotional connections by making customers feel valued. Increases interaction with the brand .
3. Data Collection:-Helps businesses track customer behaviour and preferences. Enables personalized marketing and better decision-making.

A loyalty programme is built on several key principles that help brands strengthen customer relationships and drive business growth. Firstly, it focuses on customer retention by rewarding repeat purchases-companies like Titan use their loyalty programmes to offer exclusive discounts, early access to collections, and personalized offers to returning customers. Such programmes allow companies to collect valuable customer data, helping brands like Titan personalize their marketing strategies and product recommendations. Finally, loyalty programmes contribute to revenue growth-loyal customers tend to spend more over time and are more likely to recommend the brand to others, making them an asset to companies looking to grow sustainably Titan’s loyalty programme plays a vital role in its success by retaining customers through rewards, personalized offers, and exclusive benefits. It helps the company track customer preferences, enabling targeted marketing across its brands like Tanishq, Fastrack, and Titan Eye+. The programme also encourages cross-brand shopping, boosting overall sales. Most importantly, it builds long-term relationships and trust, giving Titan a strong edge in a competitive market.

OBJECTIVES OF THE STUDY:

Before doing any survey, it is very much essential to define the objective for which the survey is to be done. Without any objectives, there is no value addition to whatever is done in a project.

➤ OBJECTIVE 1 - TO ANALYSIS THE SHOPPERS
DEMOGRAPHICS ANALYSIS OF TITAN

➤ OBJECTIVES 2 – STUDY THE CUSTOMERS LOYALTY
TOWARDS ‘ENCIRCLE LOYALTY PROGRAM.’

SCOPE OF THE STUDY:

The loyalty program helps to get a good relationship with customers because without responding or not providing any special benefit it may doesn't think to come again for purchase to the particular store so Customer Relationship Management makes it very useful.

The need of the study is to get know about the impact of customer loyalty in TITAN, BHUBNESWAR & CUTTACK.

The importance of the study is that through this study, we got an overall idea about customer loyalty and how it will affect. This study also helped using relating theory with practical. We also know about the problem and their correspondent solution. This survey will further help the future researchers.

Managing the customer experience, maintaining a more reliable data base, improving service operations . Fostering customer loyalty, embracing the characteristics of high-performance marketing and other related subjects . The loyalty program gives a good benefit to apparel retailers to do more and more service to customer.

- SUGGESTION

3

- CONCLUSION

FINDINGS

From above picture it is clear that the age group of 16 – 50 are visiting our store.

- The gender ratio is 41.8% are female visitors and 58.2% are male customers. Titan should focus on our ladies watch collection.
- Most of the corporate workers and students are shopping at Titan.
- Titan can clearly know that the most of the visitors who are coming to this store have decent income and a good lifestyle.
- Their offline sell is significantly higher than the online sell. Titan can clearly understand consumer relay on hand on feel.
- Customer love Titan's new bold watch collection as well as the old classy one. The only thing the customer wants is quality and Titan delivers it.
- Everyone who buys a watch at Titan didn't just buy a watch they add value to their lifestyle to their look everything.

SUGGESTIONS

- Titan should give them free repairing so that the trust of customers will increase on us and they will come to titan everytime.
- They should sell their watch on sell, it will feel as cheap product rather than they should bring limited edition watches and collector watches.
- To bring happiness to customers they should give them loyalty points which they can use later on, so that the customer always love to buy watch from Titan.

1. Customer Experience:

Personalized Assistance: Train staff to offer personalized advice based on customer preferences (e.g., watch style, jewellery type).

Customer Loyalty Programs: Introduce membership cards or points-based rewards to retain customers.

Interactive Product Demos: Use smart screens or AR mirrors where customers can “virtually try” watches or jewellery.

2. Store Layout & Ambience:

Modern Aesthetic: Upgrade interiors with better lighting (especially for jewelry displays) and minimalistic layouts.

Comfort Zone: Add seating or a refreshment corner for customers to create a premium feel.

Digital Displays: Install LED screens showcasing the latest Titan collections or promotions.

3. Product Range & Availability:

Curated Collections: Offer limited-edition pieces or exclusive collaborations to attract collectors.

Customization Options: Allow customers to engrave their names or design unique watch straps.

Inventory Management: Ensure popular products are always in stock with better supply chain tracking.

4. Marketing & Engagement:

Local Campaigns: Organize small events or exhibitions in the store to showcase new products.

Social Media Presence: Share real-time updates, flash sales, or styling tips through Instagram and Facebook.

Festive Offers & Bundles: Create seasonal combos (e.g., watch + wallet set) to increase sales.

5. Digital Integration:

Online + Offline Experience: Offer “click-and-collect” services where customers order online and pick up in-store.

Customer Feedback System: Set up a digital feedback kiosk or QR code to collect customer opinions in real time.

Conclusion

Our Research on Titan Company concludes that:

- Titan Company has evolved from a watchmaking venture into one of India's most successful and diversified lifestyle brands.
- Backed by the Tata Group, Titan enjoys strong brand trust and credibility in the Indian market.
- The company has established leadership in key segments like watches (Titan, Fastrack), jewellery (Tanishq, Mia), and eyewear (Titan EyePlus).
- It continues to grow by expanding into new categories such as fragrances (Skinn) and ethnic wear (Taneira).
- Titan's customer-centric approach, focus on innovation, and strong retail and digital presence have driven its market success.
- The company is committed to ethical practices, sustainability, and delivering high-quality products and services.
- Titan's consistent financial performance and loyal customer base position it as a leading name in India's lifestyle and retail industry.
- Overall, Titan stands as a shining example of a modern Indian company that blends tradition with innovation to achieve long-term growth.
