PROFILE

1. Fundamental Principles
Sports teaching isn't just about the game; it's about holistic development.

2. The Teacher's Methodology
Effective sports educators use various styles depending on the goal:
Command Style: Direct instructions for safety or specific technical drills.
Discovery Learning: Setting up a "problem" (e.g., a 3-on-2 drill) and letting players find the solution.
Reciprocal Teaching: Students observe and provide feedback to their peers, which reinforces their own understanding.
Phase Focus Purpose
Warm-up Dynamic stretching & pulse raising Injury prevention and mental prevention.
Technical Drill Repetitive skill practice Muscle memory and form correction.
Game-Based Play Small-sided games (3v3, 5v5) Applying skills in a realistic, fun environment.
Cool-down Static stretching & Reflection Recovery and reviewing what was learned.
critical life skills:
Discipline & Resilience: Learning to handle defeat and push through physical fatigue.
Leadership & Teamwork: Understanding roles within a group to achieve a common goal.
Ethics (Sportsmanship): Promoting fair play, respect for opponents, and following the rules.
